

Inverloch hosts major surf event

THE Inverloch Surf Lifesaving Club expects more than 500 competitors at its junior carnival, on Sunday, January 10.

They will be from around Victoria.

That will emphasise the importance of the club's planned big upgrade.

Youngsters will be aged from about seven to 14, including the state's top such athletes.

Events will include swimming, boarding, beach sprints, and the iconic "flags".

Club president, Philippe du Plessis, said: "We're particularly proud of our own talent.

"And we welcome all visitors, including on-lookers.

"The day will be supported by many volunteers in various roles.

"That involves officiating, water safety, and beach responsibilities."

The club is aware of scarce parking spaces, and encourages care around local roads.

Inverloch Surf Lifesaving Club members prepare for the big junior carnival.